Starr, Keating Plan Retirement

While many Shakerites and members of the faculty are counting the minutes before summer vacation, two members of the English department are winding up their years of teaching at Shaker. Both George G. Starr and Mrs. Louise C. Keating plan to retire to a life of travel, reading ("catching up"), and perhaps some "serene contemplation."

ALTHOUGH NEITHER has specific plans, Mrs. Keating said, "One advantage of my retirement is that I will be relieved of the necessity of making immediate, definite plans." Mr. Starr sees a possibility in Pennsylvania with his family.

He has been at Shaker since 1937 and has been head of the English department since 1958. Mrs. Keating has taught here for the past 16 years, and has been most impressed "from the beginning . . . with the fact that Shaker is a source of real opportunity for the student who applies himself; the major concern of all members of the faculty has always been to help the individual to use his potential to the fullest at whatever level."

Starr Retires, Rejoices, Recollects Long Career

by Julie Berger

George Starr, retiring chairman of the Shaker English department, welcomes his new-found leisure. He plans to travel, spending at least one month each year in New York, where he will attend plays, musicals, and concerts, visit museums, and pass time just "looking at tall buildings."

Mr. Starr, who has taught at Shaker for 27 years, was the faculty advisor of Gristmill for eighteen years. In 1954-55 he held a Ford Foundation scholarship, which enabled him to travel in Europe, and to study at Columbia University, the University of London, and Cambridge. He has served in many organizations, notably as a director of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Under Mr. Starr's guidance, the Gristmill staff created and for several years published Semanteme, the school literary magazine. Discussing Shaker's aspiring student writers, Mr. Starr remarked, "The kids don't learn their craft . . . they refuse to rework material in order to improve it."

Geismer, Simon Excel, Win Citizenship Honors

Meg Geismer and Peter Simon received Shaker Square Citizenship Awards this morning. The class of '68 chose the two seniors who most closely met the qualifications of service, leadership, and a high sense of values.

MEG AND Peter, the 22d pair of annual recipients of the awards, both actively met these requirements. Meg has been an energetic force in Student Council through serving on the Executive Board and chairing Assembly Committee. She has contributed to two publications, The Shakerite and Gristmill, and enthusiastically participated in intramurals. Winner of the French Award, she has also received a Letter of Commendation for her score on the National Merit Scholarship Test.

Peter has held the impressive record of presiding over his class for all three years at Shaker. For two years he compounded his responsibilities by acting as president of his homeroom. Excelling scholastically, Peter is the owner of a scholarship key, and a Letter of Commendation.

RUNNERS UP for the award were Jan Campbell, Anna Ginn, Roger Frankel, and Dale Pollock. Each received a dictionary from the Dads' Club. Principal John A. Stanavage presented the awards to Meg and Peter at the assembly.

The Shakerite wishes to congratulate Michael Cavallo, Jon Silverman, and Gordon Shecket for winning the Eastern-States Chess Championship in New York City. The team is now considered the best in the country.

Classes Elect New Officers

While the United States is in a fever of anticipation over the Presidential election of '68, the prospective junior and senior classes already know who will lead them during the 1968-69 school year.

THE JUNIOR class officers will be Bill Ginn, president; Peter Guren, vice-president; Joanne Federman, the only returning officer, secretary; Janet Bolz, treasurer; and Lynn Kirschenbaum, social chairman.

"First in my mind for next year is to try to get as many people involved in activities as possible. I feel that it is important for people my age to get involved in something just to get involved," says second-time winner Howard Williams, who officiates over the senior class next year as president, along with vice-president, Dale Kastner; secretary, Liz Fitzsimmons; treasurer, Amy Hansen; and social chairman, Beth Hanna.

THE PRIMARY elections were held on May 15 and the final elections on May 17.

Stanavage Bids Farewell, Assesses Shaker Problems

So four hectic, turbulent years come to an end! But not really to an end; a cycle is simply completing itself. Shaker High, its staff, and those students who ever renew its purposes will continue to clamber to new heights. The world of tomorrow will need men and schools to match its lunar mountains! It will find both coming from Shaker High.

IN THESE days of startling change, there is neither time nor leisure for the sentimentality of declaiming a farewell. The marching orders of the day are towards some far horizons for each of us. It is fitting, then, that I not say goodbye, but fair journey and happy combat.

To stay in character, however, let me proclaim my own mandate for your future and that of Shaker High. You and the school will have to resolve three most stubborn problems:

1. INTEGRATION, the burning moral issue of our times, must be made a reality. Shaker High has been in the forefront of this battle for the last decade.
2. RELEVANCE must be found in education. This is far more the task of the student than of the school. You must find and read meaning into learning.
3. ALIENATION is too easy an exit for those who despair, but cannot create. This is your world, flaws, faults, and warts alike. It is your hands that must rebuild it closer to the aspirations of the mortal heart.

As each of us departs from Shaker High, hopefully we are taking with us a banner of truth, a promise of strength, and a fragment of a dream.

Variety Sparks New Semanteme

Behind closed doors and drawn blinds, the Semanteme staff prepared the Spring issue with a cover that, according to editor Todd Bayer, "is a first on the American literary scene."

THE MYSTERIOUS cover satirizes simultaneously "assembly line production, the space program and current trends towards sexual ambiguity."

Stark black and white photographs present abstract and non-objective designs complementing the literature.

ALSO FEATURED are an interview with Mrs. Dorothy Ferster in which she discusses "Youth and the Creative Experience", poems ranging from the decidedly acid to the exquisitely lyrical, a personals section for intra-head communication of printable variety, book reviews, and essays.

Betsy Freeman will head the 1968-69 literary staff. The senior members will include: Laura Chapman, Jeff Gross (also business manager), Peggy Satola, Marian Schwartz, and Heidi Verne. Jim Osher will be Art Editor. More students will be selected to join the staff in the fall.

Government Interns Take Over; Shakerites Manage City Hall

by Jan Davey

Shaker Heights City Hall was invaded May 22 by 32 Shaker students who were terminating a two-month Government Internship program by "taking over" the city government for a day. The usurpation was so authentic that "Fire Chief" Bill Ginn spent the night on guard in the Fire House.

THE SOCIAL studies department designed the program six years ago to reveal the rituals of city government to high school students, and to eliminate their lack of knowledge of politics on the local level.

Government Intern Day was the final result of over eight weeks of seminars and meetings, conducted not only by the 75 applicants and faculty adviser Jerry Graham, but with the city officials as well. As the day of the actual take-over approached, the 75 students were narrowed down by a quite selective process (exams) to fill the 32 official postions available, ranging from Mayor to Police Chief.

Zealous government interns Mike Horvitz, Barbara Stone, Henry Nieder, Rae Saltzman, Phyllis Bossin, Joe Stern, and Bob Linsenmeier signal for recognition at a City Council Meeting.

THE THEME for the program this year dealt primarily with Shaker's Master Plan, a project involving the revitalization of Shaker's older areas and its relation to integration within the city.

The morning of Government Intern Day consisted of the students doggedly following their real-life counterparts around to view their duties and problems as city fathers during a typical day. This was followed by the traditional luncheon at the Brown Derby restaurant. The congeniality there gave way to a heated mock City Council session in the afternoon at City Hall. The students were forced to extend the allotted time for the session and ended their day having voted down three appropriations that the Council had recently approved.

MR. GRAHAM described the students as having "a certain reluctance to go along with the city fathers," and was reluctant himself to make further editorial comment. He deemed the project a great success, however.

AFS'ers Accept Differences; Assimilate American Life

by Marian Schwartz

This July, three of Shaker's seniors will be going home, after spending this past year as American Field Service students at Shaker. These three are Anneke Hartog of the Netherlands, Ashish Pathak of India, and Philippe Moutie of France.

IN CONVERSATION with them, it becomes clear that they are very satisfied with their experiences this year, and one can feel how much they care about their life here and the people they have met who have become their friends.

The American Field Service is not, after all, a right-wing subversive organization whose purpose is to seduce as many foreign students into coming to America as possible in order to Americanize them. Rather as Philippe puts it, the AFS student tries to assimilate physically and learn while he is here but he also maintains his identity as a citizen of his own country. AFS can only be successful if it does not return its students as permanent tourists to their own countries. All Shaker's AFS students agree that the program has been a successful one this year. In this time away from home, the AFS student should grow more responsible and learn to view himself, America, and people in general more honestly because he has been put in a position where he can gain more than a tourist's insight, where he is a part of a family and where he has made strong friendships.

ANNEKE TOO feels that she has become more open-minded through her contact with both the Americans she has met here and the other AFS students who are visiting America with whom she has talked.

Although all of them were confronted by differences in culture, Ash was representative of them in saying that the most important thing is not to compare this life to their other one but to transcend the superficial differences and become aware of the people free from cultural prejudice.

Ann Barber, who will be traveling to Malaysia this summer as Shaker's AFS representative, concurs with Ashish. She remarked, "The excitement of going to an area so completely different lies in being able to acquire both a rapport with a family, and an understanding of their viewpoints."

David Cohen

Dexter Eames

Cohen, Eames Merit Awards

"There are different people to see in Shaker for advice about different things but if anyone wants to know how to get a high score on the National Merit Scholarship Test they should see me," proclaimed David Cohen, one of Shaker's National Merit Finalists who will receive $1,000 in the next four years.

DEXTER EAMES, the other money-winning finalist, said, "We really don't deserve all this attention. The only thing that separates us from the other finalists is that we found a sponsor." Both boys will receive $250 a year for four years to meet various expenses. Dexter will be attending Massachusetts Institute of Technology next year and plans to go into engineering or science. David will go to Harvard, and he thinks that he would like to major in chemistry or medicine.

Looking back on their years at Shaker the two finalists differed in their opinion of the school. "Shaker is wonderful. It has much more to offer than most schools," said David, who added to Shaker's offering by helping to found the Contemporary Forum. Dexter disagreed saying, "Shaker is too proud of itself when it is actually very behind the times. Shaker should seek to educate with relevance to today's student and his world."

Both boys are anticipating the exciting experiences which college life will bring them.

Social Studies Department Plans Negro History, Enriches Program

The Social Studies Department plans to introduce a number of new courses into its curriculum. It will also revise several established courses.

THE NEW courses offered in summer school are Psychology and the American Presidency. Terrence Pollack will teach the former, which is to be an overview of psychology as a behavioral science. In the American Presidency course, teacher Robert Mohney will emphasize the development of the office and its functions.

Jerry Graham will teach a course in urban problems in the 1968-69 school year. The first semester will consist of traditional academic study in a variety of social sciences, while the second semester will be devoted to independent study. The course may serve as a substitute for the government requirement.

THE ONLY innovation in a required course affects American History students. The department has added Benjamin Quarles' book, The Negro in America, to its curriculum as a supplementary text. Advanced placement and level three students will use the book. Level one students will use Eyewitness: The Negro in America, by William Katz.

Quarles' book is an analysis of the Negro's role in American history. Katz's book emphasizes outstanding individual achievements of Negroes. The books have a common purpose, informing readers of the Negro's contribution to American history.

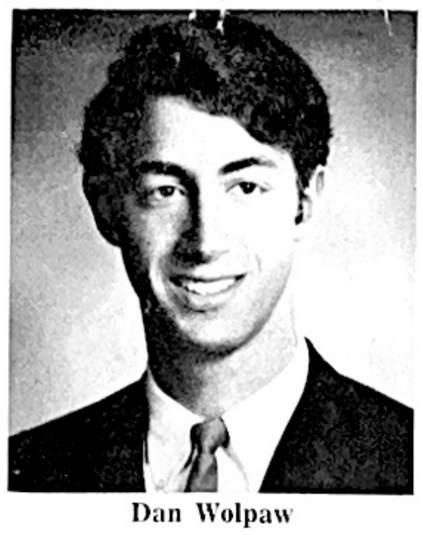
Top Senior Wolpaw Mixes Diversity With Scholarship

Is there a formula for academic success at Shaker? Dan Wolpaw, who ranks first in the senior class, feels that there is no set pattern for achieving high grades.

DAN, WHO HAS a 5.8 grade average and will attend Amherst College next fall, believes that a sense of responsibility and a willingness to work are the most necessary ingredients for a good record in high school.

In addition to his studies, Dan has participated in sports activities and is sports editor of The Shakerite. He realizes, however, that while he has concentrated on academics, other equally qualified students have directed their interests toward student affairs or drama. Dan thinks that academics shouldn't be the only measure of ability in high school.

DAN IS EMPHATIC in his opinion that "secondary school is the proving ground where one must find questions, not answers, and seek a direction, not an end. Perhaps the answers and the ends will never come, but it is their presence which makes life truly fascinating."

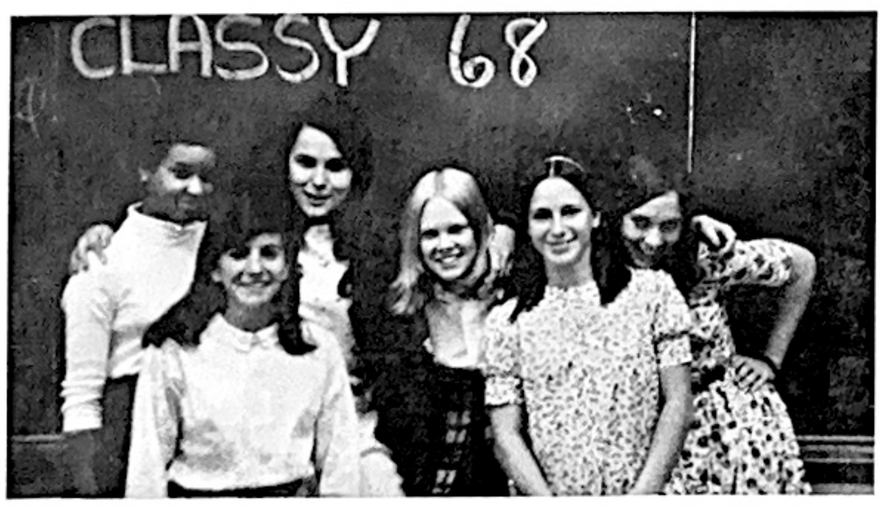


Dan Wolpaw

Honored Seniors Await Graduation; Cap Year With Gala Celebrations

Capping the whirl of social events which mark the senior's release from bondage, the Senior Prom will take place at the Somerset Inn, Thursday, June 13. Although the dance begins officially at 9:00, various dinners and parties will precede it.

THE FIRST affair scheduled was a coke party, which all seniors attended, Wednesday, June 5. Another school-sponsored event will be the post-prom party at the Executive Club.



Crystal King, Bette Huston, Wendy Adler, Nancy Bonfils, Betsy Stage, and Amy Sands gaily prepare coke-party skits.

Graduation will take place in Music Hall, Saturday, June 15, at 8:30. The A Capella Choir will sing, and the speaker will be Mr. George Edgell, Director of Programs for the American Field Service.

THE TRADITIONAL Honor Day assembly held in Rupp Stadium this morning recognized many of Shaker's departing seniors. The awards acknowledged ability in the fields of art, drama and speech, foreign languages, mathematics, science, and athletics. Specific prizes included the medal for social studies, from the Daughters of the American Revolution; the Phi Beta Kappa award; the PTA scholarship; and the new Miriam K. Stage scholarship. Receiving honors were the editors-in-chief of The Shakerite and Gristmill, and the National Merit semi-finalists.

Shakerite Plans Updating; Foresees In-Depth Studies

As Dr. Stanavage noted, the times are changing, and The Shakerite does not plan to be left behind. In fact, next year The Shakerite hopes to play an important part in what is actually happening.

A school paper, in order to have an integral function in its society, must expand its scope beyond that of recording scholastic and social activities. It should redefine its duties, and consider the essential part that high school students have in facing the problems that confront everyone. A valid treatment of fundamental problems would involve serious thought, independent research, and informative reporting; this The Shakerite plans to do in the form of topical studies.

The three points brought out in Dr. Stanavage's letter, the black movement, relevance of education, and alienation will have priority in the studies that the paper conducts. Elaboration on how these studies will be conducted, and other topics for discussion will be presented in the first issue next fall.

With the co-operation of the student body, in the shape of material aid (activity tickets) and ideas and contributions, The Shakerite will become an active participant in the learning process of everyone. It is hoped that the paper will stimulate all members of the school to active thought, and serve as the instrument of communication that Shaker badly needs.

Swatters Capture Second in LEL; Shaps, Jacobs, Lebby Pace Team

Shaker's baseball team played inconsistent ball the last two weeks of the season, and wound up in second place with a 9-5 league record and an 18-10 overall slate.

ON MAY 13 the Raiders edged Lakewood 1-0 in 12 innings, as Jay Davis scored the winning run in the bottom of the 12th. Bob Lebby tossed a regulation seven-inning no-hitter, but had to continue for five more innings to notch the win.

Parma whipped Shaker 3-1 May 17, despite Spencer Jacobs' hot bat. Euclid clinched first place May 21 by pounding Shaker 5-0. The two teams were deadlocked for the LEL lead before the game.

SHAKER BOUNCED back on May 24 to top Brush 9-2. Jacobs again led the attack with three hits and two RBI's. Kevin Pyle clubbed two hits and knocked in three runs. The following day the Raiders lost both ends of an independent doubleheader to Cathedral Latin, 5-3 and 2-1.

Shaker has had four players consistently among the city's top batters: Bob Shaps (.393), Jay Davis (.326), Darryl Booker (.329), and Spencer Jacobs (.330). Bob Lebby (7-4), Greg Golenberg (4-1), and Ron Harris (4-3) placed among the best pitchers in the city.

Senior Spencer Jacobs eludes Forge catcher to pace victory.

Netters Compile 6-1 Slate; Take District Second

The doubles team of Jim Lackritz and Dave Orlean captured second place in the district tennis meet at Euclid, May 17 and 18, to cap a highly successful spring tennis season.

THE OTHER doubles team consisting of Chip Carstenson and Jeff Maxson won two matches before bowing out, even though they gave Shaker something to cheer about as they compiled a 6-1 record this past spring, losing only to the powerful University School team. In the district singles competition, Jim Osher and Jon Stone lost to the number one and two finishers, respectively.

In the final meet at U.S., the team was deprived of a victory when Charles Dane of U.S. overcame a deficit to defeat Jon Stone and help his team pull out a 3-2 clutch victory. In other competition Jim Lackritz and Dave Orlean took their singles matches, while the teams of Carstenson and Maxson, and Tim Shane and Dave Lomas both suffered defeats.

IN A tournament at Chagrin the tennis team added more laurels to its cap as Jim Lackritz took the singles side of the tournament, while Chip Carstenson and Jeff Maxson swept the doubles.

Next fall, Shaker will have a fine group of returning lettermen when they open their stand for the Lake Erie League title. Those boys returning for the Raiders are Dave Orlean, Jon Stone, Jim Osher, Jim Fishel, Dave Lomas, and a junior transfer student from Hawken, Toby White.

State runnerup Tiff launches winning jump in recent meet.

Ricers Finish Second in LEL; Tiff Garners Second in State

After losing by a hair's breadth to powerful Euclid May 7, 68-59, the Shaker track team swept to victories in its three remaining dual meets to compile an excellent 6-1 record, good for second place in the LEL. The Ricemen overpowered Brush, 90-37; Parma, 87-40; and arch-rival Heights, 81-46.

IN THE close loss to Euclid, the Raider track team gave the LEL champs a terrific battle as the meet went to the last event before the winner was decided. Leading Shaker in its finest performance of the year were Milan Tiff, with 10 points, Bob Yeager, Eric Mumford, Chris Gibbon, Drew Barkley, John Hopwood, Greg Goss, Tom Mosley, Leroy Johnston and Greg Williams.

In the District Meet at John Adams May 13, Shaker finished in third place. In the Regional Meet at North Canton on May 18, Tiff and Goss qualified for the State Meet in Columbus May 24. Tiff placed second in the long jump with a leap of 22 feet, 11¼ inches at Columbus. Tiff, Mumford, and Goss competed in the Ohio Track Classic at Mansfield, June 1, a right reserved to the top ten competitors in the state in each event. Tiff will then go to Sacramento, California, on June 12 to compete in the Golden West Invitational Meet. He will compete in the triple-jump, his specialty.

IN THE LEL meet held May 21 at Lakewood, the Raiders placed third behind Euclid and Valley Forge. In the Manuel Kuechle Sophomore Meet held at Shaker May 4, the Ricemen placed third behind St. Joseph and Heights, with Tom Mosley tying the record in the high hurdles with :15.7 and Brian Clarke, Ashton Durand, Dusty Knavel, Burnes Hairston, and John Hopwood scoring.

Coach Rice remarked that next year's team will sorely miss the parting seniors, including three-year lettermen Cooney, Tiff, Goss, and Williams; distance men Yeager and Gibbon; and sprinters Barkley, Johnston, Jim Conforti, George Shiffman, and Tom Cargill. However, the future looks bright as a large number of sophomores and juniors have done very well and promise a fine team in 1969.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The boys' intramural softball championship game played Saturday, May 25, was disputed and disrupted because only one umpire was assigned to so important a game. Many viewers on the sidelines with better vantage points than a sole umpire behind the plate questioned the consistency of the calls.

THE POLICY of assigning one umpire to the championship game was absurd. In the World Series, the number of umpires who call a game is increased rather than decreased, as was the case in the softball tournament. Unless this practice is corrected, it will cause the downfall of intramural softball competition.

It is impossible for an umpire who is standing behind home plate to make correct decisions on close plays at second or third base. We want to assure the continuance of the softball tournament to the satisfaction of all concerned, and to this end we recommend the assigning of at least two umpires to the championship game. This will prevent needless disputes and bitterness.

Sincerely,
Jim Hughes et al
